

Environment and Society

The major in Environment and Society will consist of 36 credit hours distributed as follows:

The Major in Environment and Society will consist of 36 credit hours distributed as follows:

ENVS-4003. Capstone Seminar

ENVS-4003. Capstone Seminar. This course is designed to provide students with an opportunity to apply the knowledge and skills acquired during their undergraduate studies in environmental science. The course is a culminating experience that allows students to demonstrate their understanding of the field through a research project or a similar activity. Prerequisites: ENVS 3013, ENVS 3023.

ENVS-4006. Work-Study Project

ENVS-4006. Work-Study Project. This course provides students with a practical, hands-on experience in the field of environmental science. Students are placed in a work-study position where they can apply their classroom knowledge to real-world situations. The project is supervised by a faculty member and provides an excellent opportunity for students to gain professional experience and develop their skills. Prerequisites: ENVS 3013, ENVS 3023.

ENVS-4006. Work-Study Project. This course provides students with a practical, hands-on experience in the field of environmental science. Students are placed in a work-study position where they can apply their classroom knowledge to real-world situations. The project is supervised by a faculty member and provides an excellent opportunity for students to gain professional experience and develop their skills. Prerequisites: ENVS 3013, ENVS 3023.