

D. Admission to Bachelor of Applied Arts in Gerontology

The Bachelor of Applied Arts in Gerontology is a two-year program that prepares students for careers in the human services field. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 60 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).

Students who have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts (B.A.A.) program in Gerontology at St. Thomas University (STU) may be eligible for admission to the Bachelor of Applied Arts in Gerontology program at St. Thomas University. Students who have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts program at another institution may be eligible for admission to the program at St. Thomas University. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 60 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).

Students who have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts program at St. Thomas University (STU) may be eligible for admission to the Bachelor of Applied Arts in Gerontology program at St. Thomas University. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 60 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).

E. Certificate Programs

Certificate in Gerontology Program

Application Requirements

Students who have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts program in Gerontology at St. Thomas University (STU) may be eligible for admission to the Certificate in Gerontology program at St. Thomas University. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 12 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).

Program Details

Applicants must have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts program in Gerontology at St. Thomas University (STU) and have a minimum GPA of 2.0.

1. Complete the application form.
2. Pay a non-refundable fee of $55.00 ($40.00 for NBCC members).
3. Submit a transcript from the institution where the Bachelor of Applied Arts program was completed.
4. Submit a letter of recommendation from a faculty member at the institution where the Bachelor of Applied Arts program was completed.

Notes: Certificate in Gerontology Program is a two-year program that prepares students for careers in the human services field. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 12 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).

Additional Information

Students who have completed a Bachelor of Applied Arts program in Gerontology at St. Thomas University (STU) may be eligible for admission to the Certificate in Gerontology program at St. Thomas University. The program is designed to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to work in a variety of settings, including residential care, community care, and long-term care. Students will complete a total of 12 credit hours, including general education requirements, core requirements, and elective requirements. The program is accredited by the National Board of Certified Teachers (NBCC).